Sanctions, tensions and new tariffs are once again making it difficult to access markets. The wars in Europe and the Middle East are destabilizing the world order and causing upheaval in the global economy.

Nobody can benefit from a new (cold) war.

What we do:

Regular events

Club evenings with notable speakers

Discussion rounds with experts

Regular meetings and collaboration with associations from the fields of business, science, culture and politics

Today, the OWWF has a wide range of contacts with consular and diplomatic missions, political decision-makers, business associations and scientific institutions.

The OWWF has members from Bavaria and Eastern European countries, and its activities cover the entire Eastern European region and beyond.

Our motto describes our goal:

“We build bridges out of barriers”
